Invitations are out announcing a Phantom Reception to be given at the Hartford House on December 21st, which promises to be one of the grandest events of the season.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Albert Austin was called last Friday and the Commonwealth not being ready on account of absent witnesses, the case was continued until to-day.

Some unknown parties broke into A. Lee's florist mill at Lewis' Station on the O. & N. R. R. last Friday night and took 1,000 pounds of flour and four sacks of bran. No clue to the burglars.

Photographer A. D. Taylor can be found in his elegant photo car in Hartford on Monday of each week, all day, and at Beaver Dam the balance of the time. For first-class work, call on him.

What could be nicer for a Christmas present to a lady friend than a popular magazine? It would be a regular reminder of your kindness. See THE HERALD'S Clubbing List and let us order one for you.

The recent protracted meeting at Woodstock Valley, conducted by Rev. W. D. Cox, is said to have been one of the most successful ever held there. There were 40 conversions, 35 additions, 10 relocations and 2 restorations.

Martin Dean has begun building an elegant bath room and barber shop combined, on the vacant lot between J. S. McHenry's law office and the Commercial Hotel. Let the improvement go on. We can't we have a hair brush on the bar at once?

Block Morton's stable at Owensboro was burned last Sunday night. It is supposed that it caught from a cigarette or match thrown down by some boys who had been playing in the stable that afternoon. Mr. Morton's horse and buggy were gotten out, but the feed was burned.

Mr. Mow Thompson has purchased the Diamond Coal Mine and is now getting in new machinery throughout. Mr. M. Nokes, representing the Southern Railway, is in town, in connection with doing the work. Mr. Nokes is a fine mechanic and will have everything in running order.

Clarence Dennis, son of C. G. Dennis, happened to a very painful accident while returning home from church at Prentiss last Friday night. It seems that his horse slipped and fell on him while crossing a bridge, breaking his leg. He was resting as well as could be expected at last account.

O. P. Anderson and Miss Edna B. Fancher were married at the residence of B. F. Sallenger last Sunday. Rev. G. J. Dean spoke the words that made the happy couple one. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were a few of their most intimate friends, were royally entertained at J. T. Patterson's Monday.

The Methodist meeting at Prentiss was a most successful one. Over forty have professed faith in Christ and the altar is still crowded with penitent seekers. Rev. C. T. O'Fallon left last night for his home in Hartford. The pastor is alone now so far as ministerial help is concerned.

Virgil Jackson, a negro fell out with two white men, Bill Cooper and Ed Holder at Navy's store on Taylor Creek last Saturday and fired a pistol at them. The ball struck Al Vanover, a bystander, in the chin, making a very deep wound, and passed, on striking a horse belonging to a man named Bridges. Jackson made good his escape.

THE HERALD'S Clubbing List embraces the best periodicals in the several lines mentioned. We have made it so that to do only with first-class publications, and have endeavored to have variety enough to please the most exacting. Anything in the line of literature or news line may be had at prices much below the regular subscription rates.

T. J. Morton, Marvin Dean, E. G. Rhoads, Miss Margaret Robinson and Rose Warner, of the Methodist church, Ernest Morton, Ernest Tracy, Misses Carrie Warner, Emma Fair, Mrs. Yelverton, of the Baptist church, Harry Nall, Iva Nall, Misses Jennie Guntner, Stella Thompson, Birdie Nall, of the Presbyterian church, constitute the committee on arrangement for the Christmas tree at the court house next Monday night.

THE HERALD HAS IT PROVEN that Sheriff-elect C. P. Keown has secured J. B. Roberts, Fordville, N. T. Stevens, Cromwell, and Thomas Bishop, Centerburg, as three of his four deputies. The deputy for the third territory has not yet been decided upon. THE HERALD also gives it as a pretty straight tip that County Court Clerk-elect D. M. Hooker has decided on J.

W. Taylor as his deputy. He will likely retain L. M. Bender for two or three months until he becomes thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office.

The thief who entered Taylor & McHenry's law office on the night of the 18th inst., and stole $1,000 in bonds together with some worthless paper in a large envelope were kind and thoughtful enough to return the envelope, and the papers to Mr. Taylor through one of the postoffice boxes on the street. But before doing this he took the pains to see that the bonds were not in it.

It is hoped that the commitment for the several magisterial districts will appoint as many assistants as they may deem necessary and raise the sum of $25.00 in each district to be used to them and report the same to the undersigned as early as possible, for it is one of the grandest enterprises for the county and State ever inaugurated.

JAN. F. CARSON, Chairman Bureau of Immigration for Ohio county and State of Kentucky.

Mr. Wm. Lyons, who has been a resident of Hartford for the past 23 years, moved his family back to his farm at Haynesville last Wednesday. Mr. Lyons has served as marshal for the town of Hartford most acceptably for the past several months. He was deputy marshal for some time before his appointment as marshal. We regret to lose from our midst such an estimable man. Mr. Lyons was in town Monday and Tuesday winding up his official work preparatory to returning to his farm.

Hon. A. R. Montgomery writes as from Washington that he has been ordered a competitive examination to be held at Elizabethtown, Ky., on the 31st day of January, 1905, to select from the Democratic applicants for the position, a candidate for the Military Academy at West Point. Applicants must be between 17 and 21 years of age, not less than five feet in height, and physically sound. THE HERALD gives this to the public, that all who are eligible and desire the place, may have an opportunity to compete.

Azro Mafford, of Huntsville, Butler county, who has been teaching school in District No. 25 near Owensboro, was dismissed by the trustees last Friday morning. It seems that there has been considerable dissatisfaction about the manner in which the school was conducted the greater part of which grew out of the refusal of Mr. Mafford to teach certain lessons. Last Wednesday at noon while the teacher was absent getting his dinner, the pupils barred the door and when he returned and being unable to get the door open any other way, he broke it down, went in and proceeded to give the pupils a lecture, the language of which was not of the best sort. At any rate the trustees met as above stated and dismissed him from the school. An appeal will likely be taken to the Superintendent.

James Gary, the 11-year-old son of Squire Gary, of near Spring Lake, was bitten by a snake and is now in a bad way. The snake was a rattlesnake and it was killed by the boy. Young Gary was taken to Dr. Bates at Spring Lake Sunday and a medicine was procured and applied and adhered to while and then loosened its hold and the stone was held too near the head and was rendered worthless. The parents and friends of the boy learned of the madstone in the town of Hartford and the boy accompanied by his father and John Cornick came to Hartford Monday and took the stone and applied it.

Resignation.
The Owensboro Inquirer says: Rev. J. Russell Crawford, the popular pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, in this city, has tendered his resignation of his office, effective April 1, 1905. Rev. Crawford has been the pastor of the church for the past several years, and has made many friends here. He is one of the leading young ministers of his denomination, and will render his church good service wherever he goes. He will probably engage in synodical work in Tennessee.

Mr. Crawford is a brother-in-law to Hartford's most excellent woman, Miss Mary Crawford, and he has many friends here who will always feel an interest in his life's changes and his work. He is a strong man and will at ways command a high place in his church.

Gold Premiums.
On Saturday, December 19, 1904, we will award the following premiums on the best samples of tobacco grown in Ohio county in 1904 and with the aid of Homestead Tobacco Growers. Each sample to be as much as 100 lbs. and the grower to furnish the amount of fertilizer used and cultivation of crop: $10.00 in gold for best leaf tobacco; $5.00 in gold for best leaf tobacco to be exhibited at our store at or about 2 o'clock. Everybody invited to come in.

Allen living on the Sulphur Springs road, three-fourths of one mile north of Boone, Ohio county, Ky., one mile, red hair, about 18 months old, no marks or brands on her. Valued by D. C. Allen at five dollars. Given under my hand this November 27th, 1904.

Explosions at Constantine.
Strong protests come from both the foreign and native inhabitants of Constantine against the oppressive policy of espionage recently enforced by the Sultan's government, says a correspondent. The millions of the Sultan seem political conspiracy in a garden party or a ball. Sometimes such unceremonious prohibitions, and other things must be added to injury to the fact that a representative of the palace is present. The latter steps adopted recently at the annual distribution of prizes at the English high school for girls.

Matchmaking Abroad.
An international matrimonial paper, printed in three languages, is about to make its appearance in Berlin.--(Jour and Spectator).

Highest Honor--World's Fair.

AWARD.
Dr. J. E. Pendleton's

Judge Edwards landed down an opinion at Louisville Monday affecting a large number of educational and charitable institutions in the State. In the case of the Trustees of the Kentucky Female Orphan Home in the City of Louisville, the court held that it was not the intention of the law that the exemption from taxation granted to such institutions should be extended beyond the local property held by them and comprising part of the in situations themselves.
